

Family Learning Facilitators

Salary: $16/hr

Applications welcomed year round

The Robert McLaughlin Gallery (RMG) was alive with education and learning activities including a full schedule of school visits, sold out art classes and workshops, and sought after camps before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. As we ramp up our programming capacity, we are looking for Family Learning Facilitators to teach family workshops as part of our OPG Second Sunday monthly events. Family Learning Facilitators will have the opportunity to assist with the development of hands on art making content inspired by current RMG exhibitions.

We are seeking individuals who are emerging arts educators' or those looking for very PT opportunities who have some basic skills or technical experience in a range of disciplines that include painting, drawing, printmaking and sculpture. The ideal candidate is committed to creating a welcoming and inclusive environment for all participants and encourage creativity and developing skills.

This position will require availability predominantly on one Sunday a month, with possible Saturday hours for program development.

Necessary Skills + Attributes:

- Experience in education, art instruction, or related fields
- Knowledge of current trends in art, related cultural practices, and engagement strategies
- Knowledge of art-making techniques using a variety of media
- Some experience as a visual artist and/or art instructor
- Demonstrated ability to work with participants of all ages and backgrounds
- A meaningful understanding and genuine commitment to diversity, inclusion, anti-racism, and equity
- Ability to work flexibly and collaboratively with the others
- Strong communication and leadership skills
- A proven ability to work independently as well as in a team

Successful applicants will be asked to provide a recent vulnerable screening check.

About Us

The RMG believes that art cultivates connected and caring communities. As an artist-centered and community-oriented public art gallery in Durham Region, we bring people from diverse backgrounds together to engage with art that inspires new perspectives, generates meaningful conversations, and creates a sense of belonging.

We build relationships with diverse artists and communities through art. The RMG works in collaboration with artists, partners, and audiences to present dynamic and inspiring collections, exhibitions, and programs in an inclusive and equitable environment.

Values are at the core of how we work. The RMG is guided by the following values:

- Culture of Care
- Artist-centered and Creative
- Equity and Justice
- Relationship-based and Collaborative
- Accessible and Inclusive
- Accountable and Open

We encourage anyone applying to ensure our values have alignment with your own.

Working Conditions

The Robert McLaughlin Gallery is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from qualified candidates from visible and invisible minority group members, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, persons across the spectrum of sexual orientation and gender identities and others with the skills and knowledge to productively engage with diverse communities. We are committed to hiring on merit and to removing barriers in employment policies. Should you require accommodation during the interview process, please let us know and we will work you to meet your needs.

This position is slated to be onsite, pending public health guidelines. The RMG follows all guidelines from the Province of Ontario and public health. We prioritize the health, safety, and wellness of all staff. Please note this position requires the candidate to work from the gallery sometimes working with the public, to fulfill a number of duties. The candidate must also feel comfortable working in co-operation with students, community collaborators, gallery members, and stakeholders in accordance with Learning and studio needs at the RMG.

How to Apply

Please forward a short cover letter, resume, and no more than 10 examples of your work to jwelch@rmg.on.ca or jmorrison@rmg.on.ca.